SARATOGA, N. Y., July 21.-The magnates of the Metropolitan Association of the A. A. U. made a happy hit in selecting Saratoga as the scene of the third annual track and field championships of the district. Woodlawn Oval, situsted in one of the most picturesque suburbs of the popular summer resort, is an ideal athletic arena. The einder track is a quarter mile in circuit, with easy curves. It has been constructrdless of expense, and compares favorably with any athletic path in the East. The infield is laid out with the same care. The jump-ing and weight putting sections are perfect in every detail and so situated that every performmes is within view of the grand stand occu-

The experiment of holding the meeting so far away from New York was in some senses a risky one, as many of the smaller clubs entitled to tation hesitated to send on their aspiring champions. Competitors, however, turned up in satisfactory numbers, while the quality was so high that there is little doubt the best athletes in the district secured the hon-ers in each event. The New York was first in the field with a contingent of competitors, who strived on Friday afternoon. The Troy boat which left New York on Friday night also grought a large party of competitors and efficials, and Manager Jim Robinson was in a happy frame of mind when he saw the aggrega tion of muscle and speed safely housed and for the fray.

The atmospheric outlook was by no means ensouraging when the time approached for the initial event. Ominous clouds threatened to burst at any moment, and a strong wind which blew down the stretch reduced the possibility of record performances to a minimum. The ex-pected rain held aloof until most of the events anything like what would have been regisin sympathy with the management, When the sport commenced, promptly at 2 P. M., the grand stand and enclosure showed many vacant nthusiasts poured in so lively that the gather osure also secured liberal patronage, and was quite representative and satisfactorily large advance guard of horsemen on hand for the racing, which opens Monday, found pleasant relaxation in the struggles of the bipeds. They apparently enjoyed the novelty, and none appreciates the meritorious performances more than Dave Gideon and John Kelly. Among the local patrons of sport who enjoyed the tournament were Judge Henry Hilton, Edward Kearney, John A. Manning, Jr., W. H. Manning, George T. Smith, Sydney Smith, Joseph A. Wells, Dr. Moriarty, Walter Hanson, John J. Wandell, William A. Bockes, and Chief of Po

The other events on the programme numbered sixteen, but energetio were Referee James E. Sullivan Clerk of the Course John Dixon, and the other officials that the curtain fell soon after 5 P. M. The lion's share of the prizes went to the New York A. C. athletes. They captured eleven first, six second, and six third places. The New Jersey A. C. was next in prominence with tro-phies representing three first, six second, and nine third places. The Pastime A. C. wound up is third position with an aggregate of two first, nd, and one third.

The Xavier A. C. only sent three men, and the team was further reduced at the critical time by the mysterious disappearance of their crack shot putter, J. Barrett. When his event was called he was nowhere to be found, and the athletes steak an hour before joined the Xavier men in wondering what had become of him. No light was thrown on the question until 6 P. M., when the athletes returned to their hotel and discovered that Barrett had retired to his room for a brief slests after lunch, and slept placidly right through the afternoon.

Consistency was a conspicuous feature of the form displayed during the tournament. It goes without saying that the premier honors in the weight wents to that marvellous pair, George R. Gray and Jim Mitchell, New York A.C. In this C. was also conspicuous, although he is by no means at his best, owing to a recent attack of rheumatism. Tommy Lee, N. Y. A. racers to the general regret of the assembled talent, as the world's record would have been broken if the conditions had been favorable. Stephen Chase was tipped as a sure winner by the New York contingent, and many cutsiders also looked to him for a big performance on the strength of the great form he had shown in the New England intercollegiate championships and the recent New York A. C. games. Chase more ther recent New York A. C. games. Chase more than justified the estimate of his ad-mirers by winning in time only one-twentieth of a second outside the world's record. His figures tied the European and increollegiate records. Fred Puffer falled to hold Chase toward the end of the race, but the vatering had his revenes over the low burdless. reteran had his revenge over the low hurdles later on, and he romped away from the New England flyer, remarking, as they passed the judges, "You can't do me twice," Puffer also definated Chase in the broad jump.

Speciators had ample opportunity to wax entic over the other events. The victory of George Sands in the quarter-mile run was in-tensely popular, while that of Kilpatrick in the half mile was both clean out and decisive. Walsh of the Xaviers looked a sure winner of wash of the Asviers looked a sure winner of the mile run, but he took matters too easily and had not enough speed to respond to the brilliant ruah made by G. G. Jarvis, New York A. C. in the stretch. The Wesleyan boy was appar-ently in trouble after running half the distance, but he persevered with acceptional gamuness, and practically won on his courage. Willie Day's win in the five-mile run, after salling and outting himself severely on the first lap, fetched the crowd. The return of Capt. Hugh Baxter of the New York A. C. to active athletics was also a popular feature of the day. He signalized his reappearance in silk by win-ning easily.

The three place men were the only starters. Puffer and Chase ran abrease intil nearing the ninth hurdle, where the New Englander slipped the old shampion and won with case by four yards. The performance created a sensation, which was intensified when the time was announced, and it became apparent that the winner would have broken the world's record under favorable conditions. As it was, he tied the European and intercollegiate records, Coombs was a leisurely third.

of 98 feet eig inches: R. C. Davis, New Jersey A. C., third, with a put of 50 feet by inches.

Gray had no difficulty in winning, but he was not quite satisfied with the performance, and in an exhibition put afterward, he reached 46 feet 7 inches, eclipsing all his previous public efforts with the notable exception of his put at Chicago on Sept. 19. 1803, when he established the world's record of 47 feet.

Throwing 16-pound Hammer—Won by James 8 Mitchell, New York A. C., with a throw of 156 feet 5½ inches; R. C. Davis, New Jersey A. C., second, with a throw of 111 feet 10 inches; C. Gorge R. Gray, New York A. C., with a throw of 106 feet.

C., and T. Fredericka. New Jersey A. C., tod for third place at 10 feet.

The old-time champion completely outclassed his opponents and after winning he cleared 10 feet 9 inches in an exhibition vault. F. Frederloka New Jersey A. C., Bowman, and Casey tied at 10 feet, but in the extra rotted Bowman cleared 10 feet 1 inch and secured second place. The other pair tired themselves and the spectators in trying to decide the ownership of the third modal. After, falling to solve the problem by vaulting they consented to toss up a coin, and Casey, with his usual luok, won.

cott, 8tr Kuight, Don Alenso, Annte Bishop, and St. John the Other Winners -M. F. Dwyer to Sall Nineteen Hend of Horses on Saturday Next at Brighton An unusually large crowd saw the racing a Brighton yesterday. The sport was of a very fair order, and as five well-backed favorites won, the talent had a good day. The fourth race, the ers, of which Don Alonso was a strong favorite. Herald was not neglected, while Liszie, the re-maining starter, was not considered a factor worthy of any support.

The bookmakers took advantage of Mr. Dwyer's absence to take liberties with Don Alonzo, persistently holding the big fellow at 7 to 10, although the public money was showered in on him. Don Alonzo never looked more fit than yesterday.

The trio got away with Lizzie making the running, the Don trailing until the upper turn was rounded, when he challenged the leader, and, going to the front, won under a pull. Her ald got the place from Lizzie. Herald almost threw Don Alonzo at the first turn.

Walcott was favorite for the opening race and gave his backers no uneasiness. Panway was pace maker for three furlongs, when Nick took a turn in front. Walcott and Shelly Tuttle closed up in the last quarter, the former win ning by a length. Shelly Tuttle beat Nick of head for second money. Sir Knight, in the third race, was the shortest priced article of the day. There was a strong tip on the lighted-weighted George Dixon, the colored confederacy betting a barrel of money on him, but the company proved too fast for him, and, like most good things of this kind, he wont astray. George Dixon was first away, but Stonenellie ran him off his feet in the first quar-ter of a mile. Sir Knight came fast at the finish, and closing up a big gap, passed Stonenellie and won by a length. George Dixon, all ridden out, was third, two lengths behind Stonenellia.

The good thing that the patient ones have been waiting for turned up in the race for two-year-olds. This was Jack the Jew. In his previous race he was badly interfered with, and good judges held the opinion that he would be good enough to bet on next time out. They were right, as he beat his company most dectaively yesterday. Belle of Stonewall made the running with Jack the Jew trailing in third place to the with Jack the Jew trailing in third place to the last sixteenth, where Blake took him to the front, winning easily by a length from Emma, who, ridden by Harry Jones, beat Belle of Stonewall is length for the place. The winner is a bay colf by Jills Johnson, out of Some Time, a sister to Now or Never. Somebody won heavily on Emma for second place. Annie Bishop was favorite in the fifth race at one mile. Bonaventure, in company with Vespasian, set a terrific pace for half a mile, where the latter went te pieces. Coming into the stretch Tom Tough and Annie Bishop challenged Bonaventure, and although Tom Tough made a gallant effort he was not equal to hold his own with the brown filly, and she beat him easily for the pure. Bonaventure was a good third.

In the Steeplechase St. John and Flip Flap made the running together, taking the jumps beautifully. The staying powers of Bradley's old gelding proved too much for Flip Flap in the last quarter of a mile, and he won quite handly. Flip Flap was second and Bucephalus third. Bradley is very fortunate in having as tough a representative to take the place of Blitzen. St. John has already won stakes and purses this year to the amount of $6,000. Lallah Glenall and Bushranger also ran, the last named giving Chandler quite an argument at the water jump.

this race was thus taken away from a horse who was entitled to it, and the affair created considerable comment. All through the afternoon the official timers continued to make the

This left three moneys for the young trotters that lasted it out to-day, and the fourth money goes to those who won the main stake on Tuesday.

The consolation for the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Stake showed that the original race was not a true one. Cobwebs, who became distressed in the second heat on Wednesday and was distanced, rounded to and trotted two heats this afternoon faster than any of those won by J. M. D. The long-headed chestnut made quick work of it to-day. Sally Simmons, the favorite, was only good for second money. She went easy the first time, and Cocoon male Cobwebs step in 2:1044. The clip was faster after that, but the New Yorker reeled off the second heat in 2:134 with great case, and repeated this in the third one.

Ballona was the next good thing to go wrong, as she failed in the 2:135 trot, losing the first three heats by bad breaks. Alar came home with a rush in the first mile and beat Miss McGregor by a length in 2:15. The stout young mare from the metropolis was in front all the way the next time. Miss Nelson lapped on her at the wire in 2:1446. Then, after Strontia and Ballona had each secured a heat with Alar unstady, she redeemed herself by keeping level, and the race went to her in 2:1784.

Neither Clayton and Addie L. nor Wonder and Nelly Hardwood could live with the clip Fred Wilkes and St. Elmo set, and the Village Farm cracks Cora and Pansy were unable to head the geldings the first time in 2:2044. Then the mares won a heat only to be outfooted by a neck in the third, both pairs making breaks this time. Cora and Pansy then settled down, and with Fred Wilkes and CHICAGO, July 21.—The eleventh annual meeting of the Washington Park Club came to an end to-day after a very successful run of twenty-five days. The aport this call. ty-five days. The sport this afternoon was very interesting, and a large crowd was present. Only three of the seven favorites managed to get home in front. The club is a good winner on its meeting, President Wheeler saying that it has been the best since the track was opened, in 1884.

The feature of to-day's card was the Wheeler Handicap, at a mile and a quarter, which was won so easily in 2:05 last year by Morello. The track had not dried out thoroughly since the rain of yesterday, or that mark might have been equalled. As it was, that sterling good performer, Yo Tambien, with 123 pounds up, won very handily in 2:0614. There was nothing in the race to make her whip out. The lightweighted Tyro was second, two lengths before Wildwood, the outsider in the betting.

Ed Corrigan put Clayton on Tyro, and as he was making his run on the turn for home he stumbled almost to his knees, but soon regained himself, and got about the only position he could have secured had there been no accident. Yo Tambien was alightly cut behind, and it must have been done at this point. The stake was worth $5,858 to the winner.

The other races, with the exception of the last one, were interesting. That event went to Mr. Hendrie's Coquette, with Blaylock sitting perfectly still on her.

First Base—Five turions. Flash, 104 (Ferthus), 8 to been the best since the track was opened, in 1884.

Fifth Raiso - Eight and a half furiongs. King Bora 54 (Clayton), 15 to 1, won; Capt. Reese, 109 (Tobin), 3 to 1, we can be compared to 1, second a known or 2, classin), 5 to 1, third. The 1, 150 known of 1, 1 known of 1, imp. Trentola also ran.

A few of the largest winners at the meeting are: Santa Anita Stable first, with $35,000. Rey El Santa Anita Stable first, with $35,000. Rey El Santa Anita Sutcory in the Derby and Sheridan Stakes gave the stable a big lead. Ed Corrigan managed to win $26,000, the Pastime Stable, over $18,000; Kentucky Stable, $17,000; Kendall Stablea, $10,000; J. W. Levy, $11,000; Green B. Morris, $9,000.

Eleven two-rear-olds, the property of Leigh & Rose, were sold at the track to-day, but as money is very scarce only $3,620 was realised for the lot.

LIGHT WINDS AND CALMS. Twenty-two Tachts Start in the Homes stead Club's Regatta.

GLEE COVE July 21 .- A calm, a touch of a thunder storm, and another calm gave diver-sity to the sixth annual regatta of the Hemp-steed Harber Yacht Club, which was sailed over the club course this afternoon. Of the thirty-three entries received only twentywe boats started. This was owing to the calm which prevalled during the day, preventing a large number of boats from arriving in time for the start. There were two courses, one for the

The course for the 18 and 20 foot boats was seven miles long, and included a run to the spar buoy at Execution Reef and return to the starting point. The other course was from the starting point off the club house to a spar buoy on the easterly end of Execution Reef; thence to another spar buoy off Matinnicock Point, thence to starting point; twelve miles.

The signal gun for the cabin boats was fired at 2:05 o clock. The wind was light from the northwest. Ten minutes later the open boats were started. The wind continued light until about 4 o'clock, when a thunder storm from the north freshened up the breeze somewhat. Even this wind did not last long, and all the larger boats finished in a calm.

The prizes were silver cups for the first boat in each class. No time allowances were reck-oned. Summaries:

CLEVELAND, July 21.—The second day of the Cleveland Wheel Club's tournament saw some good racing. W. C. Sanger got up in the special sanctioned event of the meeting, the ten-mile open race. He had said previously that he would ride until he rode off the track. This he did in a hard grinding finish with Titus. Sanger won by a foot, and at the lower turn was car-ried by his momentum over the bank and in among the tents. After a tortuous journey over tent ropes and poles, the big fellow flew over the hurdle bars on the grass. He was unhurt by his fall. Bald fell heavily in the ninth atle. mile. He had been riding as if in distress, and in looking down at his loose pedal struck Sanger's rear wheel and fell. Bald mounted pluckly, and with Murphy as pacemaker attempted to catch the leaders. In this he falled, but took third.

Fourteen men started in the contest, a half dozen as pacemakers. Under the stiff pace the Murphy brothers, Maddox, Steele, McDonald, and others dropped out. The time, 25:45, is within thirteen seconds of the world's record held by Ray MoDonald, and is the best time on a quarter-mile track. Bald won the quarter-mile race by daring work on the banking. E. C. Johnson, the local crack, had a fair lead when Charles Murphy passed him, and Bald, coming from the bunch, overtook and passed the two at the tape. Time attempted to ride in the three-mile lap, and after running five laps fell out and was third. The summary:
